

DO WHAT YOU CAN

Read the story below.

THERE was once a farmer who had a large field of corn. He weeded it for he wanted to sell the corn and buy good things for his family with the money. But after he had worked hard, he saw no rain fell. He felt very sad, and every morning he went out to the field and wished for the rain to fall. One day, as he stood looking up at the sky, two little raindrops saw him, and one said to the other: "Look at that farmer. I wish I might help him." "Yes," said the other, "but you are only a little raindrop. What can you do?" Well," said the first, "I know, I cannot do much; but I can cheer the farmer. Here I go!" the second one said: "Well, if you insist upon going, I think I will go, too. Here I come!" And down went the raindrops. One came pat on the farmer's nose, and one fell on a thirsty stalk of corn. "Dear me," said the farmer, A raindrop! I do believe we shall have a shower." By this time a great many raindrops had come together and going down to cheer the farmer, and water his corn, because one little raindrop tried to do what it could.
